Original Works Festival 2011

The Willows Theatre Company, a professional regional theatre company in the East Bay Area of California is seeking aspiring playwrights to submit their unpublished full length play in the inaugural year of the New Works Festival.

The New Works Festival will be held July 27th 2011 to July 30th 2011 in Concord, Ca at our beautiful 210 seat Mainstage.

Four plays will be selected and have a fully produced stage reading. Each play will be directed by a professional Bay Area Director. The actor pool will consist of local talent.

Judging the Festival will be a panel of six comprised of local professional Artistic Directors, critics and directors. Panelists include Lois Grandi, Pat Craig and Josy Miller among others.

The winner of the festival will receive a fully produced production of their play in the Willows Theatre Company's 2012 Season kicking off the 2012 Original Works Festival. The cast will consist of Equity and non Equity actors and be directed by Willows Artistic Director, Eric Inman.

Be apart of the inaugural year of this wonderful festival focusing on developing and highlighting the voice of the aspiring playwright. For more specific information visit:
